

Since the no-call list was instituted, life has been so much more enjoyable. Prior to the list I received five or six calls each evening. I don't want that to change and am totally totally totally against amending the no-call bill to allow calls from banks and others.